Claudia G. Corchado, *COMMUNITY PROJECT COORDINATOR

CENTRAL CALIFORNIA REGIONAL OBESITY PREVENTION PROGRAM @ LIVINGSTON MEDICAL GROUP

Ms. Corchado coordinates and organizes the Central California Regional Obesity Prevention Program (CCROPP) for Merced County. CCROPP is a California regional project funded by The California Endowment to create environments and policies that help prevent childhood obesity particularly in the low income communities of Merced County. She has worked for the past 11 years in the field of nonprofit including grant writing, grant management and implementation. CCROPP organizes local grass root community members to improve social and physical environments for healthy nutrition and physical activity through policy, advocacy and system change. Ms. Corchado will share one of Merced County CCROPP's most successful environmental changes that benefits thousands of families in Merced County.
